

PRESS RELEASE

Date: 13th November 2007

CALLCREDIT CALLS ON SENECA

emis intellectual technology™ are very pleased to announce that Callcredit Limited has chosen to become a new Seneca customer. Callcredit's decision to deploy the Seneca Case Management solution was in part due to the success of the solution at Experian UK, another recent Seneca convert.

Callcredit will be using Seneca within its in-house legal section to provide contract creation and management for members of the Skipton Information Group and a range of daily operational activities including the management of both internal and external advice and project management tasks.

Seneca replaces existing file and folder management processes under Microsoft® Windows and task management under Microsoft® Outlook. Seneca's tight integration with Microsoft® Outlook for e-mail management and Microsoft® Word for document and template management is to be used extensively to provide a single repository of relevant and secure information with complete audit trails of activity, events and document changes and mechanisms for rapid data capture and retrieval with automated workflows.

Callcredit is the UK's most innovative, state of the art consumer credit reference agency with an extensive range of information and value added services for businesses and individuals. Callcredit is part of the Skipton Information Group which consists of three Skipton owned companies that operate within the information/IT arena, namely Callcredit – a provider of credit reference services, Eurodirect – specialists in data modelling and data-based solutions, and GMAP Consulting – a
